

Karen Rigby

50 Words

Karen Rigby is the author of Chinoiserie (2011 Sawtooth Poetry Prize, Ahsahta Press, 2012). Awarded fellowships from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Vermont Studio Center, she has published poems in Washington Square, Field, and other journals. She is one of the founding editors of Cerise Press (2009-2013).

100 Words

Karen Rigby is the author of Chinoiserie (2011 Sawtooth Poetry Prize, Ahsahta Press, 2012). Awarded fellowships and a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Vermont Studio Center, and the Greater Pittsburgh Arts Council, she has been published in venues including Poetry Daily, Meridian, FIELD, Washington Square, New England Review, Carte Blanche, failbetter.com and Best New Poets 2008. She is one of the founding editors of Cerise Press, an international online journal of literature, arts, and culture published from 2009-2013. Her work has appeared in Kirkus Reviews, ForeWord Reviews, High Country News, Open Letters Monthly, and The Writer.